Phonics homework

Phonics homework will focus on practising the sounds that link directly to the teaching from the previous week.

This is an opportunity for children to revisit knowledge and further embed their skills.

In school, children will take part in retrieval games to practise their phonics skills.

Maths

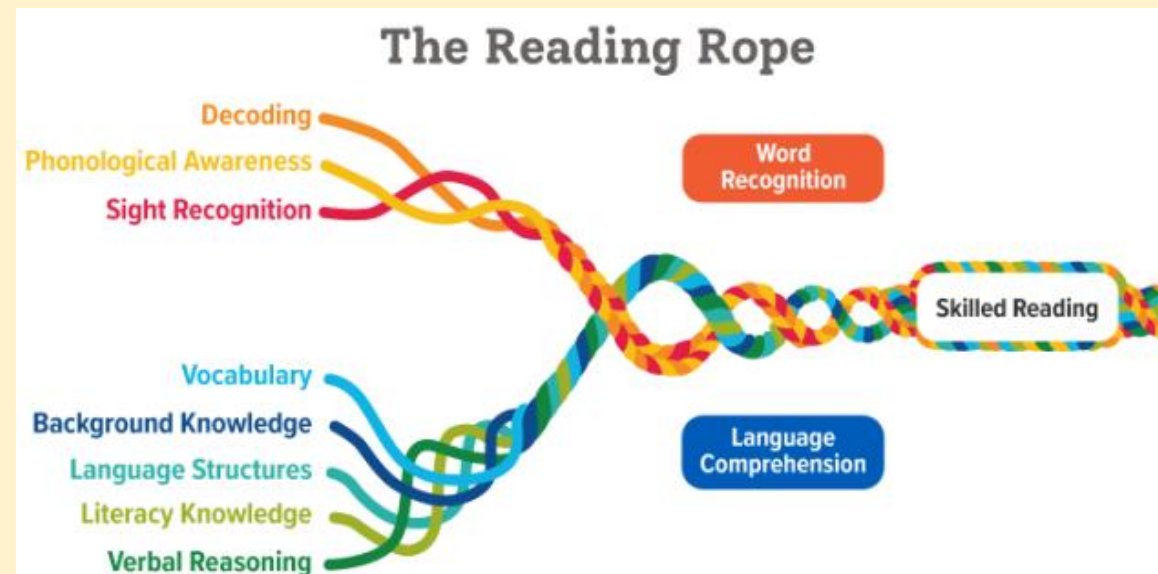

Maths homework will again focus on retrieval of prior learning and will be stuck into children's homework books each Monday.

A strong emphasis will be on a deep understanding of numbers to 20 and number formation.

Reading

We have increased the focus on reading as evidence suggests that children who read for enjoyment everyday not only perform better in reading tests than those who don't, but most importantly develop a broader vocabulary, increased general knowledge and a better understanding of other cultures.

EYFS Reading

This year we will be following the strategy of deep reading. This will mean that all children will be placed into small groups to have a focused reading lesson. This will reinforce what they have learnt within phonics and will develop your child's fluency in reading.

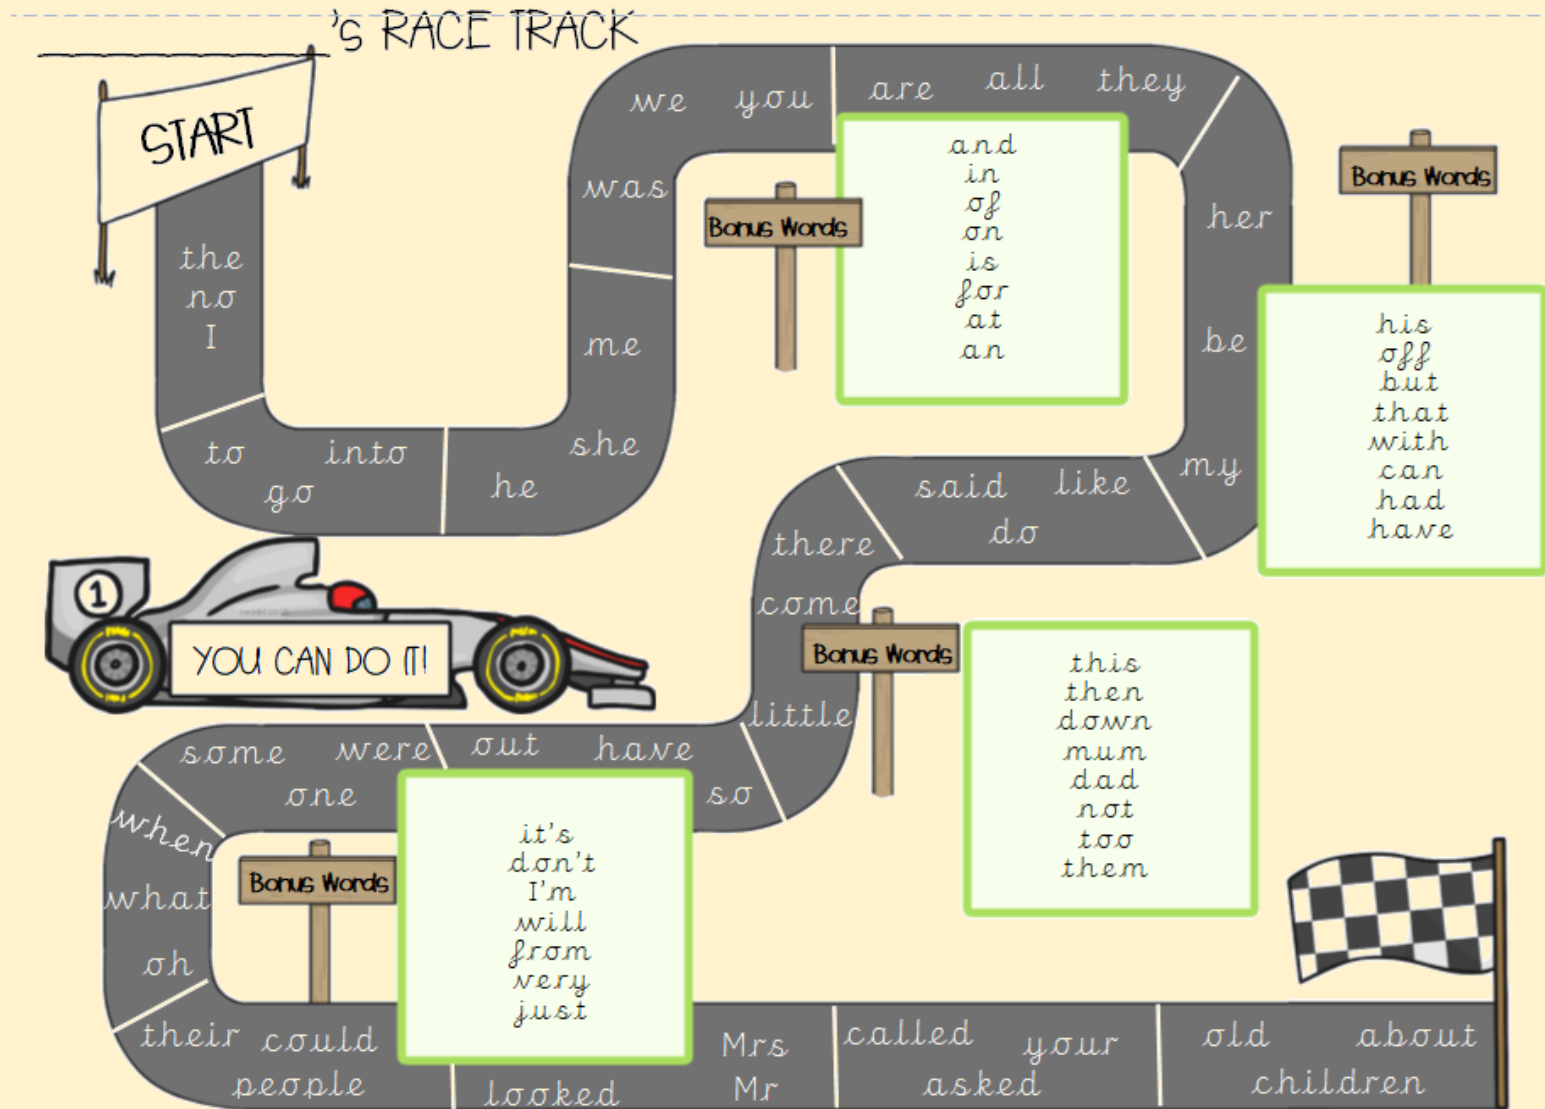

They will then bring their book home on Friday to showcase what they have achieved over the course of the week.

It is crucial children bring their reading book back on a Monday to ensure that this can be passed onto the next group.

Studies show that rigours and repetitive reading allows children to develop their ability to sight read.

When reading we would like children to develop their sight reading to develop their fluency. Therefore, we will be continuing to send home the race track words to develop this.

What we ask from parents:

- Support the schools homework policy and help your child with their homework activities weekly
- Sign and date the reading records when your child is heard read
- Ensure that reading records and diaries are in school daily
- Encourage your child to establish a homework routine which best suits your family
- If your child is struggling with an activity, approach the class teacher for guidance as soon as you can to create a home school relationship.

What about if we want more?

We recognise that families may also want to take part in wider projects that reflect pupil's talents in other subjects such as a science, art or history.

Each half term, class teaches will share project ideas in the form of a year group newsletter that reflect the topics currently being taught in school. Children are welcome to bring their completed projects into school to be celebrated in class.

In addition, children are challenged to complete '50 things to achieve before you leave Moorgate'. Families are encouraged to email or bring in examples of their children's successes into school to ticked off and celebrated.

50 Challenges to do before you leave Moorgate!

We have developed “50 things to do before you leave Moorgate”!

This document encapsulates enrichment through our curriculum and provides children with experience and enrichment both at home and school.

We are set on every learner completing all 50 things before they leave us! Some of the activities are achievable at home and some will be achieved whilst in school.

Please send in photos/videos of your child completing the challenges to classmoorgateacademy.co.uk and we will tick them off for you!

Important information for Reception

Baseline Assessment

During the first 6 weeks of school, all children in England are required to complete the ‘Reception Baseline Assessment’.

This is a relaxed way for us to get to know each child’s ability in Maths and Communication and Language.

These baseline assessments support the government progress judgements once your child reaches the end of Year 6.

Every Day Counts

SCHOOL SUCCESS AND LEARNING GO HAND IN HAND WITH SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Pupils can fall behind if they miss just one or two days every few weeks.

Regular attendance encourages stronger friendships and helps pupils feel better about school and themselves.

School can signpost to other agencies to help support your child and family with school attendance

We want to work with every parent - so each child in our school can succeed!

Poor attendance is below 93%
 Good attendance is over 96%

A pupil with attendance below 90% is persistently absent from school

We appreciate that sometimes children are ill - please call school on the first day of any absence

School will follow up any attendance that falls below 93%

For any other leave of absence in term time then a request form needs to be completed. You can ask for one at the school office
